Between Wheel of Time and The Stormlight Archive, you both have provided hours, and hours of work. You brought a ridiculous amount of characters to life, blew my mind open with the most exciting moments I've ever listened to. I've cried a thousand tears, I've laughed so hard I fell over, and my stomach hurt, I've been frozen like a brick of ice with anticipation when you guys bring to life intense moments, when Michael read A Memory of Light's ending, Rand grabbed all 3 powers then exploded with light, and energy, I felt as if I were there in the book, watching it happen in person. It was the most powerful moments I've ever felt. I was speechless, and still struggle with how to explain it. I had to pull over, and off the road so I could pay attention.
